

4-Week Creative Writing Course

with Jules Horne

This Creative Writing Course is for writers who want to kickstart or reboot their writing project with a burst of fresh momentum and focused craft teaching.

The aim is to help you make real progress and get reinspired on your current project, while strengthening your craft skills in a calm, supportive environment.

Each writer will have a short one-to-one tutor meeting before the course begins, to set goals and focus for the month.

The four weekly evening sessions will be held at the Texthouse Studio in Kelso, which includes a library of writing craft books and audiobook recording studio. Please note that this is on the first floor with stair access.

Each session combines short guided teaching with time to apply the ideas directly to your own writing.

How it works

- 30-minute one-to-one goal-setting session before the course
- Four live evening sessions
- Guided teaching followed by dedicated writing time
- Small group for focus and accountability

Texthouse, The Corn Exchange, 31 Woodmarket, KELSO TD5 7AT
Tel: 01573 348110 Email: jules@texthouse.co.uk

Session format:

7.00–8.30pm – practical teaching and exercises

8.30–9.00pm – quiet writing time to apply what you’ve learned

The sessions are held in person at Texthouse Studio in Kelso, with coffee, biscuits and a calm writing space provided.

If you’d prefer a Zoom course, please get in touch with an expression of interest.

Dates:

TBD, 7–9pm

Small group: maximum 6 writers.

Fee for the four-week intensive: £150.

Your Tutor:

The sessions are led by Jules Horne FHEA, an award-winning writer and creative writing tutor with many years’ experience teaching creative writing with The Open University. Her writing credits include plays for stage and BBC Radio, fiction, spoken word and kinetic poetry. She is also an independent publisher of books and audiobooks.

www.juleshorne.com

www.method-writing.com

For more information, please contact Texthouse on 01573 348110 or email office@texthouse.co.uk.